Director's Welcoming Speech

On behalf of all members of the Academy of Islamic Studies, Universiti Malaya (APIUM), I would like to welcome and congratulate all new Higher Degree candidates for being selected to continue their studies at this premier varsity. Study at the postgraduate level is an important process for the purpose of career building and consolidation of knowledge and expertise. Learning at this level also provides opportunities for you to develop various potentials in themselves including intellectual, personality, spiritual, emotional and social aspects.

As you are aware, studies at the tertiary level are different from the bachelor's level, especially in terms of goals/direction and study process. Such differences certainly present more bitter challenges and demand greater sacrifices. However, the challenge will promise a variety of new experiences that are more valuable in your life, especially in the context of attitude formation and maturity of thinking. This is because, the learning process at this level not only requires you to self-discipline and redouble your efforts, but also to optimize cognitive ability more critically in performing analysis, synthesis and evaluation of something. Curiosity, always optimism, interest in studying and always thinking based on knowledge are also among the important foundations to become a good scholar.

As a Research University, the main focus of the Universiti Malaya is not only to produce thinkers but also quality researchers. In line with that, your performance and potential need to be developed through quality education and comparable to international standards in terms of quality of education, research and intellectual development. For that purpose, APIUM is always committed in creating a conducive environment to ensure the continuity of research activities through the provision of complete infrastructure such as libraries, computer labs, study spaces and so on.

Therefore, I have high hopes that you can overcome any challenge in studying at this University. Full cooperation and commitment as well as compliance with all rules and conditions that have been laid down can help the study process run smoothly. If you yourself are clear on the direction of your studies and apply good values in yourself, God willing, your studies will be completed successfully within the stipulated period. Finally, I would like to express my appreciation to all the staff of the APIUM Postgraduate Division for preparing the Postgraduate Handbook for the 2023/2024 session. I believe this handbook is very useful for postgraduate candidates to manage their studies while at APIUM.

Thank you.

Brief Introduction

Introduction

The Academy of Islamic Studies, Universiti Malaya as it exists today is a combination of the Department of Islamic Studies and the Islamic Academy. Prior to this, the two institutions were separate institutions in the Universiti Malaya.

The Department of Islamic Studies was established in 1959 as a result of a formal relationship between the then Malayan Islamic College and the Universiti Malaya. Since then, the Islamic College Council has functioned as the executive authority for the department, while the Universiti Malaya Senate oversees everything related to academic matters.

When the Malayan Islamic College Council was dissolved in 1970, the Department of Islamic Studies was placed under the jurisdiction of the Universiti Malaya Council and Senate. During that period until it merged with the Islamic Academy to form the Academy of Islamic Studies which was ratified by the Senate of the Universiti Malaya on 25 January 1996, this department was a department in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences of the Universiti Malaya.

The Islamic Academy, which was declared established on April 1, 1981, was the result of the acquisition of the Kelantan Islamic Higher Education Foundation (YPTIK) which was established in 1965. It contains two faculties, namely the Faculty of Syariah and the Faculty of Usuluddin, a degree program, namely the Master's Degree program. Young Islamic Education, and a matriculation program, namely Pre Islamic Academy. With this merger, the Academy of Islamic Studies has started offering Postgraduate level studies.

In 1996, the Academy continued to grow with the establishment of 9 Departments and was divided into four divisions, namely the Shariah Studies Division comprising the Department of Fiqh and Usul, the Department of Shariah and Law, the Department of Shariah and Economics, the Department of Shariah and Management and the Department of Shariah Policy. The Usuluddin Studies Division consists of the Department of Islamic Belief and Thought, the Department of Al-Quran and Al-Hadith, the Department of Islamic History and Civilization and the Department of Da'wah and Human Development while the Joint Studies Division handles the Islamic Education program and the Islamic Studies Program, which is to continue the joint study program with the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. The Pre-Academy program was continued and conducted at the branch campus in Nilam Puri, Kelantan.

Administration

The administration of the Academy of Islamic Studies is carried out in two places, namely at the main campus of Universiti Malaya Kuala Lumpur and at the branch campus of the Academy of Islamic Studies in Bachok, Kelantan.

In the main campus, administration is carried out through three main components, namely the Postgraduate Studies Division, the Undergraduate Studies Division and the Development and Research Division. While at the branch campus in Bachok, the focus is on pre-degree programs in the form of a foundation center for Islamic Studies in several fields.

Each administrative department in the main campus is headed by a Deputy Director, while in the Bachok branch campus it is headed by a Deputy Director who is responsible to the Academy Director.

In order to strengthen the academic administration at the Academy of Islamic Studies, nine departments and three programs have been established. The departments and programs are as follows:
